++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain in the north, but brighter further south. Winds easing.

Today:
A cloudy day across Cumbria and north Lancashire with some light rain at times. Dry further south with some bright or sunny spells. Mild, with brisk winds easing. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain in the north fading through the evening, as winds fall light. Otherwise variable cloud with clear spells developing, under which fog patches and rural frost may form. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Thursday:
Any fog slow to clear on Thursday morning and giving way to a widely cloudy day. Patchy outbreaks of drizzle possible, largely over the high ground, but easing later. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Largely settled into the weekend, but on the cloudy side with limited bright spells in the afternoon. Continued risk of fog and frost under overnight cloud breaks. Gradually turning colder.
